GREAT TEMPERANCE VICTORY.

The action of the U.S. Supreme Court in upholding the constitutionality of the Webb-Kenyon law, is probably the greatest victory the temperance forces have ever won in the nation. It means the sure coming of state-wide and nation-wide prohibition that will prohibit. It means that a great number of men who will be for prohibition that will prohibit, will now take a stand for state-wide in Kentucky, for with this act of the supreme court, no bocze can henceforth be shipped into dry territory from outside states. With a slight amendment to the Kentucky laws, which the next legislature will undoubtedly make, preventing shipment within the state, dry counties and dry territory will in reality be dry, if the laws of the state and the nation are enforced by this train of thought as it creates or officials.

November 4th 1901

In Durham, N.C.

It was midnight, cold and dark. The calendar told the date—Monday, November 4th, 1901. They tell me I opened my eyes and blinked in the glare of the big electric lights. Around me were men in spotless white talking in low tones.

"Jim," one said, "we have been watching for this little fellow for a long while and now he's here."

Jim picked me up, looked me over, struck a match and took a long, deep puff. Then he took another.

"Gentlemen," he said, "He is perfect. Quality does tell. You can't fail to recognize good blood. His mother was a Virginian, his father an aristocrat of the Carolinas. He comes from the very best stock—the very sweetest, ripest, mellowest Virginia and Carolina tobacco, and we will raise him right in one of the whitest, cleanest, healthiest homes on earth." 17 18

Even then I was glad all over to hear his words. It is a great thing to have real breeding behind you, to know who your folks are. It starts a fellow right.

We Folks of the South KNOW good blood. We Folks of the South KNOW good tobacco.

That is why I just had to have heaps of friends down South here. I want you, Mr. Reader, for one of my friends, and it means a whole lot when I say-
